Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Foreword, H. Carton Rogers viii

Essays 1

John H. Pollack, Introduction: Worlds of Learning in the Age of Franklin 2

Michael Zuckerman, Founding Fathers: Franklin, Jefferson, and the Educability of Americans 36

William C. Kashatus, Franklin's Secularization of Quaker Education 54

John C. Van Horne, The Education of African Americans in Benjamin Franklin's Philadelphia 72

Carla Mulford, Benjamin Franklin, Traditions of Liberalism, and Women's Learning in Eighteenth-Century Philadelphia 100

Patrick M. Erben, Educating Germans in Colonial Pennsylvania 122

Mark Frazier Lloyd, The College, Academy, and Charitable School in the Province of Pennsylvania: Simultaneously Franklin's Triumph and Defeat 150

George W. Boudreau, Provost Smith and His Circle: The College of Philadelphia and the Cultural Transformation of Pennsylvania 168

Matt Hartley, Ira Harkavy, Lee Benson, Afterword: Looking Ahead: Franklin's Theory of Education in the Twenty-First Century 188

Exhibition Catalogue 204

Introduction 207

The Place of Penn
- Benjamin Franklin, "Founder" 208
- A (Brief) Franklin Chronology 213
- Learning at the College and Academy 214
- Student Life, Student Lives 220
- William Smith: Forgotten Founder? 225

Ideas and Ideals
- Beginnings 228
- Growth and Challenge 234
- Frontiers of Learning 239

Scenes of Learning
- Households and Clubs 244

Lynne Farrington, A Rediscovered Franklin Imprint: The Friendly Instructor 248

Scenes of Learning, continued
- Reading, Writing, Spelling, Speaking 252
- Science and Mathematics 262

Revolutionary Visions
- Disruption and Renewal 266
- Women's Initiative(s) 272
- From Country to City 277

Schoolhouses of the Delaware Valley: Photographic Essay 286
- Map 326

Contributors 331

Index to the Essays 333

Index to the Exhibition Catalogue and the Photographic Essay 343